They always have the best ideas. I use them as a resource for all of my events!Subscribe to our Newsletter For Exclusive Offers and Deals. Your Name Email Subscribe. Information. About Us; Delivery; Policy Policy; Terms & ConditionsThe most common covering for cakes is either fondant or buttercream. The type of icing you choose to cover your confectionary masterpiece with is a personal decision but there are pros and cons with either choice.The various edible clay methods, like fondant, gum paste, marzipan, and pastillage, are all related but have critical differences. The subtle ingredient distinctions result in substantially different characteristics... how firm they become, how easy they are to shape and work with, and of course their taste!
